

Heaven Sent, Heaven Meant:
Too Beautiful For This Earth

Written by
Donna M. Kshir

Dedication:

Although I never had the opportunity to physically hold you in my arms; it never stopped or changed my love for you. Until we meet again in Heaven, my beautiful, precious loves. I think of the what if's, who you would have been, what you would have liked, and how much joy and love you would have brought into our lives. Just because I never meant you, doesn't mean I don't love you or hold you in my heart. I love you more than words can say. I'll see you soon at Heaven's gate.

Acknowledgments:

Lee 'Cougardawn' Roberts for serving as Editor.

Today, a beautiful angel from Heaven opened the book of life. She wrote down the birth of a beautiful, innocent, sweet unborn (male and/or female) child. Warm tears slowly streamed down her rosy red cheeks. She slowly bowed her head, in silence while gently closing her beautiful brown eyes. Slowly shaking her tiny head back and forth in disbelief knowing just how many lives would be affected and just as many hearts would be broken. Her small, but delicate hands softly closed the book of life. Her pale rose colored lips softly whispered, 'Heaven Sent, Heaven Meant: Too Beautiful for this Earth.'

The angel then quietly whispered to the unborn child, 'the biggest loss any family could endure is the loss of a child. Although your parents will never have the opportunity to physically hold you in their arms, they will carry you in their hearts all the days of their lives. Know their love is pure, as the Lord's, it will remain the with you until you meet again at Heaven's gates. This is not a loss or a final goodbye, but a blessing for you to spend your life's journey in Heaven with our Father, in our Lord's Kingdom, wrapped in His forever loving and forgiving arms.

'Some may truly never understand, many will place blame, some's faith will be tested and some's everlasting love for our Lord will be lost, but He will see them through. It is His promise. Some will be filled with anger, regret, and hate, but our Lord has a plan for you, my precious unborn child. Your journey is much bigger here than on earth. You are more valuable and needed in the presence of the Lord. Your parents will grieve your loss but I promise, in time, they will come to understand what a precious gift you are and why our Lord needed you to serve Him here in Heaven.

‘However, there will be many questions of the unknown. Why? What if? And how could this happen to us? How did the Lord allow this to happen? What did we do to deserve this? Why are we being punished? When so many people are throwing away, abusing and killing innocent babies. Our love for the Lord is strong and we give Him our faith and our abiding love, and He took our unborn child.

‘Your parents will be confused and filled with a mixture of emotions. They are human and this is to be expected, but in time when they are finally called home and they join you, they will clearly see the difference you made here in Heaven. It will change all those who came before you and all those who will come after you. You are setting the stage for a much bigger presence to serve our Lord, but also building a forever home, here, for a lifetime in Heaven with your beautiful family who will one day join you. Not today. This will come much, much later. Please understand this is not a final goodbye, but simply until we meet again.

‘Come to me my beautiful child, the Lord is waiting. You are needed by His side, under the watch of His careful eye, and wrapped in His forever loving arms. Today is the first day of your new life. Our Lord has so many plans for you.

‘Happy Birthday sweet angel.’
